

LETTERS GIVE A CLEW TO ROBBER

Authorities For Clifford Morris, Accused of Breaking Into Milroy Home.

SEEN IN MERCER'S HOUSE

Livery Rig Found in Front of Place Causes Suspicion to Rest on Wrong Person First.

Clifford "Pansy" Morris, of Greensburg, is wanted by the local officials for breaking into the home of W. S. Mercer in Milroy. It was through a rather strange circumstance that suspicion rested on Morris and if he is the one that was found in the Mercer home he could probably have escaped had he not been in such a big hurry.

About one-thirty o'clock this morning Mrs. Mercer was awakened by a sound coming from the dining room of their home. She awakened her husband telling him she believed there was someone in the house. Mr. Mercer obtained his revolver and started in search of the man. He found a man going through the drawers of a sideboard of the dining room.

The man ran from the house and was followed by Mercer. Mr. Mercer in the excitement forgot to shoot and the stranger escaped. On going out doors Mr. Mercer found a horse and buggy hitched in front of the house. The would-be burglar from all indications had driven up in front of the house and intended to use the rig to escape, but had to leave so hurriedly that he forgot all about the rig.

There was nothing of value taken from the Mercer home although there was between $15 and $20 in the sideboard where the man was working. Mr. Mercer is a liveryman of Milroy and recognized the outfit as having come from a Greensburg livery barn. An overcoat was found in the buggy containing a bunch of letters addressed to Roy Layton, also of Greensburg.

The liveryman in Greensburg and Layton came to Milroy this morning Layton explained the presence of his coat in the buggy stating that he had loaned it to Morris. Thus Morris was connected with the attempted robbery. It was stated that Morris has been going with a girl living on the Chester Whitman farm, one mile west of Milroy, and the supposition of the authorities is that he stopped at the Mercer home on the return trip. The front door of the Mercer home was not locked and it is believed the alleged robber gained entrance in this manner.

The Layton boy has been going with a girl in Sandusky and the two couples were together yesterday in Greensburg. Layton stated that Morris took both of the girls home and that he was to get his overcoat back as soon as Morris returned from Milroy to Greensburg. The finding of the overcoat gave the officers a clew to work on and it was at first thought that Layton was the one wanted, but he went to Milroy this morning to clear himself.

Mr. Mercer was in Greensburg this afternoon and the officers there are on the lookout for Morris.

PUTS IN A BUSY DAY AT THE TENT

Col. D. M. Perry, Eloquent Auctioneer, Exhorts Men to Think Before Option Election.

VOTE FOR HOME AND FAMILY

Emerson Ballard Says That if Saloon is Asset, City Should Advertise it as Such.

Col. D. M. Perry, cattle auctioneer of Columbus, O., and a very energetic "dry" advocate, spoke to three large audiences of men yesterday in the tent on the foundry lot. He was a good story teller. He swept the crowds with his eloquent appeals; he told pathetic tales of life that he had come in contact with and he bitterly attacked the saloon traffic. He said he knew the business from the cradle to the grave.

His one exhortation, made time and again to men during his three addresses, was that they think. He declared that if they would but think there would be no doubt about the way they voted. With reference to this, he told the story of a trip he made from Illinois to California to keep a business engagement.

He was on the back of an observation car and he waved to every farmer, every section laborer, every person he saw. Some "high-tone" folks, he said, were riding in the same car. They were ridiculing him and he knew it. Soon he went in the coach and sat down beside a very well dressed woman. Soon he was in conversation with her. He intended, he said, to show her she did not think, just as so many people do not.

He asked her if she ever thought of the engineer who was running the engine that pulled the train true and steady and was carrying them across the continent. He told her he would wave at him every chance he got. Col. Perry said he asked if she ever thought of that young fellow who was pouring coal into the fire-box to make the engine go. He asked her if she ever thought of the shop boys who made that engine sure and certain. He asked her if she ever thought of the Italian section hands who were digging away day by day keeping the track in excellent repair. And before he finished, Col. Perry declared, he had every one in that observation car who had been laughing at him waving at every yellow dog they saw along the track, and doing it gladly.

With all of his eloquent gestures and his freakish maneuvering on the platform, Col. Perry made the story so real and intensely interesting that when he reached the climax, the crowd of men convulsed with laughter. But the next moment his face was straight.

"Listen men," he added, "think, think, that's all you have to do. If you think you will vote against the saloon and for your home and family. Do any of you want to furnish the raw material for the seven manufacturing institutions which they want to bring back here. See that boy playing down there in the sawdust he's some of your raw material. Think, men, just think, before you go to the polls next Tuesday and you will do the right thing."

"You in Rushville here have blacksmiths," he said earlier in his afternoon speech. "God bless 'em! Your blacksmith goes down to his shop in the morning and starts work on iron that once came from the mountain sides. He works all day and what does he have at night? Horse shoes, a finished product. Here's a manufacturing establishment in your

PASTORS REPLY ON LIQUOR TOPIC

Discuss Phases of Local Option Election at Mass Meeting at Christian Church.

THEY ANSWER FALSE RUMORS

Show That Liquer Agitation is Not Based on Fanaticism, But on Sound Logic.

Four ministers of Rushville took opportunity at the closing mass meeting of the "dry" campaign at the Main Street Christian church last night to reply to assertions made in "wet" advertisements and false rumors which had been circulated.

The Rev. D. Ira Lambert of the First Presbyterian church discussed "Personal Liberty." He said it made his heart burn every time he used to pass the national headquarters of "Personal Liberty League" at Cincinnati, with the stars and stripes floating over it, when he thought of the deeds which had been enacted under the flag.

He said that part of the constitution which refers to the freedom and equality of men is often misinterpreted. He said all men were created free and equal before God. There is no freedom, he asserted, except that we bring ourselves into harmony with the Great Giver of life. A deception has been published in our community in the last few days, he declared, in that it was asserted 50 per cent. want prohibition and 50 per cent. are against it, and that those for it have no right to force it on those against it.

"After all," he continued, "there is no personal liberty—no liberty that is independent of every man or above the community. A man has recently been placed in the city park and certain restrictions thrown about him. If there is absolute personal liberty, that man has a right to sit in this audience tonight. That liberty which belongs to you and me is that liberty which takes into consideration the rights of others.

"Personal liberty is enjoined upon us by the Word of God—it isn't your right; it's the other persons right. It is yours and my personal liberty to go out and overthrow that which would be a detriment to the community."

The Rev. S. G. Huntington of the First Baptist church spoke on "The Responsibility of the Voter." He said the first consideration was to understand how to vote—not the mechanical act—but the voter must consider the question. He asserted it is a moral problem and that the liquor traffic says it is not. He said that the writer (of "wet" advertisements) the secretary of the Indiana Brewers association, has failed to read the Bible or tells willing falsehoods. The pastor said he took it both ways the case. He held a copy of the "wet" advertisements in his hands.

"I am sorry," he continued, "that we have a local paper that will admit to its columns such dope as that. It is a combination of falsehoods that would disgrace one of Donn Roberts' papers in Terre Haute. When the voter understands this to be a moral question, he will vote right.

"The writer of this ad. calls Jesus Christ a liar. The man who denies the liquor question is a moral one is blind—"squinty-eyed."

The second responsibility of the voter is to go to the polls and vote. The fellow who stays at home is a coward and traitor to his community, the speaker asserted. There is no neutral side, he continued, a

SENDS WITNESS TO JAIL FOR PERJURY

Judge Anderson Prefers Charge Against Terre Haute Bartender During Trial Today.

ONE DENIAL AFTER ANOTHER

Indianapolis, Ind., March 29.—Judge A. B. Anderson in federal court today ordered the United States marshal to take William Dazern to jail on the charge of perjury. Dazern had been testifying for the defense in the Terre Haute election corruption conspiracy trial and had flatly denied evidence given by 24 government witnesses.

"Jail this witness on a perjury charge and don't release him until a bond of $5.00 has been approved in open court," said Judge Anderson.

Early in Dazern's testimony District Attorney Dailey had interrupted with a demand that a perjury charge be preferred against him. Following an objection by Attorney Stanley for the defense, Judge Anderson reproved Dailey, saying such remarks should not be made before a jury.

PASSENGER BOAT SENT TO BOTTOM

African Liner Falada is Sunk by German Submarine and Eight Persons Lose Lives.

TWO OTHER SHIPS SENT DOWN

Survivor of Falada Says Crew of Submarine Laughed as Passengers Floundered.

(By United Press.)

London, March 29.—The African liner Falada, carrying 140 passengers, was torpedoed off Milford Haven Sunday afternoon, the admiralty announced this afternoon. She is the first big passenger carrying liner to fall victim to German submarine attacks. Eight of her passengers and crew were drowned. The others were landed at Cardiff today.

Captain Topt of the Falada and an un-named lieutenant were reported among the dead in a message to the Elder company, owners of the Falada said this afternoon. Two stewardesses were also drowned. The chief officer was in the water two and one half hours before he was rescued.

Confirmation of the report of the torpedoing of the Falada reached the admiralty a few minutes after the word that the British steamer Aquilla had been torpedoed off the southwest coast of Wales. The admiralty believes the same submarine torpedoed the Aquilla and Falada that sunk the Visage Saturday by Shell fire.

The Falada was bound for the west coast of Africa. Shortly after noon Sunday Captain Toft sighted the periscope of the submarine. Almost immediately the submarine appeared above the surface and signaled the Falada to lower her boats.

"The passengers, or most of them, were in the dining room," said one of the survivors. "Orders were given for the boats to be lowered but before this could be done the submarine shot a torpedo against the ship, striking near the engine room.

"A heavy sea was running and 3 of the first boats put over were swamped. The other boats, in spite of the danger, rode to the aid of those struggling in the water. Meanwhile the submarine was circling around the spot without making any effort to aid. I saw part of the submarine crew's actually laughing at us. The submarine finally dived and disappeared.

"Within an hour or more after other boats came to our aid."

Mrs. J. L. Champion is ill at her home in Jersey City.

Knowing the Small Boy

The small boy has some very definite ideas about his own wearing apparel.

Frequently he and his parents have their points of difference, but in the main the boy's ideas are sound.

Do you know that there are clothiers who have studied boy nature so that they know a boy almost as well as he does himself.

They have built boy's clothing founded on such knowledge.

They make and sell what might be termed scientifically correct clothing for boys.

Tax Payers and Business Men

Go over the records of the seven saloon keepers that held license for the past two years in Rushville and you will find it a clean record, not a single indictment against any one of them. The people that spend the money are the people that put the business in a town.

Tuesday is the day to vote No, and all get together and put Rushville back on the map
where it belongs, and have a Bigger and Better Rushville. We need help in our city.
We need a new city hall, new fire truck and our taxes reduced instead of going to $4.00, and a 10 per cent increase in valuation of our real estate. Nineteen surrounding towns are now wet and let's make it twenty by voting
"NO" Tuesday—We lived within the law
before and will do so again.

Rushville could be made one of the best towns in the state, as it was once, and after Tuesday all roads will lead to Rushville. It is not a crime to drink a glass of beer. Our leading men of Rushville are self made men, fought their own battles and have succeeded regardless of temptation. You will not always be able to sweep a clean path for your boy, therefore, teach him to meet all temptations as we have all done. If a poor man can not pay his taxes or coal bill, he should be pitied and prayed for, and not condemned or centured before the public.

Congested Kidneys Relieved in Rushville

Tells, in Open Letter, How This Result Was Accomplished.
Mr. Jacob Dunwoody of 603 West Ninth St., Rushville, Ind., says: "Some few months ago I noticed my kidneys were not acting properly. They were off in action and bothered me a great deal at night. I would have to get up frequently. I suffered with backache continually and could find no relief. At last I decided to try Lloyd's Kidney & Rheumatism Tablets, the new scientific prescription. Others had told me that they would give me quick relief. I got a box and after taking only a few I noticed an improvement. My kidneys have not given me a bit of trouble now for a long time and the backache has left me entirely. Others will find quick relief in Lloyd's, I am sure.

PROBLEM FOR UNITED STATES.

(By United Press.)

Washington, March 29.—With the Okuma government overwhelmingly indorsed by the Japanese, the far eastern situation has become the real problem for the United States to solve today.

Official figures given out by the Japanese embassy here showed that Count Okuma can figure on 213 votes in the new house against 167 in opposition.

Officials here realized that the result is a triumph of militarism.

Acts of Recent Legislature Are Explained by Expert, John A. Lapp

(This is the thirteenth of a series of articles explaining the new state laws, written for the United Press by John A. Lapp, director of the bureau of legislative information. Editor.)

Taxation

The perennial subject of taxation was much discussed at the recent session of the legislature and some forward steps taken which may eventually work for the solution of the vexed question. That some relief is imperative needs no comment. The fact that in some places a tax rate of more than 5% prevails shows clearly that relief must be given. What that relief shall be in the form of legislation is not entirely clear.

For this reason that it is a difficult question, the legislature provided for the appointment of a commission to study the subject and report two years hence a plan together with legislative bills to carry the plan into effect. The commission serves without compensation but they are directed to employ an expert on taxation to do the investigating and to formulate plans under the direction of the commission.

The legislation of the session to be put into immediate action is of considerable importance. The state board of tax commissioners is given additional power in equalizing taxes by removing the discretion of the county auditor in giving the required notices.

The state board is also given power to institute proceedings for removal against county assessors in the circuit court for failure to perform their duties and if the court finds the charges true, they shall cause removal. The assessor has the right to appeal as in other cases. The county assessors are directed to carry out the orders of the state board, and if they fail or refuse to do so, the state board can demand their removal.

ISLAM'S CAPITAL
BEING BOMBARDED

Roar of Hostile Guns Shaking Constantinople and Bombs are Being Dropped on City

RUSSIANS BECOME ACTIVE

London, March, 29.—The roar of hostile guns is shaking Constantinople. Russian shells are falling within twelve miles of the Sultan's palace. For the first time in history Islam's capital has been bombarded from the air.
An official statement from Constantinople today said:
"Early Sunday Russian warships shelled our guard ships at the Bosphorus at long range without doing any extensive damage. The bombardment lasted for a short time and the enemy's squadron then steamed out of sight."
A semi-official statement from Petrograd said:
"Further aerial reconnaissances show that our guns did considerable damage in Sunday morning's bombardment on the outer forts and batteries of the Bosphorus. On both sides of the straits our gunners scored hits. Our aviators have dropped bombs in the suburbs of Constantinople. The action is continuing."

William Carter and Marshall Spurrier Cause Trouble After Having Chance to go Home.

NO CHARGES ARE MADE YET

William Carter and Marshall Spurrier, colored, were arrested Saturday night about ten o'clock following a disturbance on the court house square. The men are still held in jail, although no charges have been placed against them. It is understood that the two men who had been drinking and Policeman Yakey ordered them off the streets, giving them a chance to go home. Yakey states that Spurrier was drunk and

An Absolute Falsehood.

Another wilful misrepresentation of the Paid Agent of the Indiana Brewers association is found in the mis-statement made in comparing the tax rate here and at Columbus. The brewery ad says Columbus (wet) city rate is $1.10, and the Rushville (dry) city rate is $1.85. This is an absolute and unqualified falsehood. The city tax rate in Rushville is $1.15. The brewery ad writer lied seventy cents worth. The falsehood was deliberate. In five minutes it could be determined what the city tax rate in Rushville was if the writer had cared to be honest about it. But the brewery ad writer said in large black-face type that the Rushville tax rate was $1.85. If the brewery ad writer would insert such a falsehood when he knew it would be detected, when he knew well informed persons know better, when he knew that it would be refuted, just how far would he go in stating absolute falsehoods concerning data which would not be detected and which there is not time this late period in the campaign to investigate. The tax rate was raised from $1.00 only this year, largely because of debts left over from the out-going administration, which should have raised the rate the year previous, and because of $12,000 spent on new water wells.

not do so. Sorrell says the man attempted to cut him as he ran. Sorrell fired a shot in the air and this attracted a large crowd. The police were compelled to use force in taking the men to jail.

What we mean by the best is that this underwear is made on patented machinery and is controlled exclusively by the "VASSAR" company. "VASSAR" Union Suits do not merely cover the body—they FIT the body and are comfortable, because the garment is shaped in the knitting—not cut to shape with a pair of shears and then the pieces knit together. The "Swiss Rib" is what makes them "fit" instead of "just cover" the body. We have your size in Athletic, one-quarter, three-quarter or full length.

city. It turns out a finished product. The men who make it are proud of it.

"But what about these seven manufacturing plants that they are trying to put back in your town? What about 'em, men? Just think, think. Are these manufacturing plants proud of their product? Do they take them to the county fair and exhibit them as your merchants and manufacturers do? No, they kick them into the street. They are through with them when they become a finished product. The raw material is your boy and some other boy. The business seeks to make drunkards and the saloon that doesn't is not a success."

He had a word for the moderate drinker. And he had a word for the saloon advocate who believes there should be saloons for the betterment of the town. He asked the "wet" man, if he thought the town was better off with the saloons, why he did not send his son down to the saloon and tell him to loaf there.

"Go on, son," he advised the "wet" man to say, "these saloons are a good thing for our town. We have to keep them going. Here's fifty cents; go down to the saloons and patronize them. And here, daughter, these wine rooms are good things. They make the town better. Go down there and entertain the boys at the saloon."

He urged the "drys" to forget politics and when the next election comes around, find out where a man stands on the liquor question before he votes for him. He declared it was the fault of the "drys" that they had been misled and had voted for a legislature that repealed the county local option law in Indiana and supplanted it with the town, city and township law. Under the county local option law Rush county went "dry" by a majority of 2,100 votes.

Col. Perry also declared vehemently that it was the duty of every "dry" to work on election day. He said they should roll up their sleeves and get into the fight, and that the women and children should also get into the struggle.

Col. Perry sailed in at the first meeting Sunday morning addressing the men's adult Bible classes at the tent, calling a spade a spade. Near the close of his speech he held up his five fingers and asked the men to watch him.

"This thumb here," he said, "is the 'wet' Christian. The first finger is the man you elected to the legislature. This second finger is the legislature composed of the men you elected which passed laws to make the saloons possible. The third finger represents the saloons. The fourth and last finger is the drunks who are the product of the saloon. It is a case of cause and effect. Remove the thumb and you remove the last finger. Now you men think a little."

Col. Perry said that up to nine years ago he was a drinking man. In most remarkable and entertaining language, he described the difference between his life now and what it was when he drank.

He said that there were few men who had a big enough throat to drive an automobile down it, but that many men were doing it by laying enough down on the bar to buy an automobile. He said he used to buy the automobile that the saloon keeper drove, but that now he was driving one of his own.

Emerson Ballard Speaks.

Emerson Ballard of Crawfordsville spoke at the tent Saturday afternoon and night. He made a most logical appeal to keep saloons out of Rushville. He compared conditions in Crawfordsville with those of the days of the saloon in the "Athens of Indiana." He said that in two years after the saloons were voted out the bank deposits increased $600,000. He recited other figures to show how Crawfordsville was benefited under "dry" conditions.

Mr. Ballard said he did not come here to criticize the business man who did not declare his stand on the liquor question. He said the business man was harried enough but that the business man need only to make a few comparisons between "wet" and "dry" years to see which conditions was best.

He recalled cases in Crawfordsville. He told of the leading shoe merchant who said he would not vote to oust the saloons because they helped business. But the saloons were put out, Mr. Ballard said, and the next time there was an election, Mr. Shoe Merchant came up to "dry" headquarters and declared that he did not want to be known in the thing, but that he was "dry" because the town was better off. He told of the leading clothing merchant, a Jew, who was first "wet" and then "dry" at the next election after the city had been "dry" because he had sold $6,000 worth more goods during a "dry" year than a "wet" year. He also cited instances, giving the names, where business men profited by declaring themselves "dry."

Mr. Ballard marveled at the fact that anyone should consider the saloon an asset, a means of drawing trade. He had prospectuses from Terre Haute, Fort Wayne, South Bend and other large Indiana cities, which were published by the business men's organizations of the respective cities. No one of them mentioned their saloons. They recited the number of churches, the factories, the number of miles of improved streets, the banks and other institutions of which they were proud, but never a word of the saloons, he said.

CITY OF ELWOOD WENT TO SCHOOL

Took Course in How to Manage City, Financially, Politically and Physically

KNOWN AS WELCOME WEEK

City Employed Expert to Make Survey of Civic Conditions—Campaign is Started

(By United Press.)

Elwood, Ind., Mar. 29.—All Elwood went to school last week—not to the school where simply A, B, C's are learned, but to the school where men women, young and old, learned more about how to manage a city for the best interest of its people, financially, politically, morally and physically. The idea took a tremendous hold on the people, and the public lectures and discussions, were held in the largest auditorium in the city packing it afternoon and night.

It was Welcome Week in Elwood, the first city in Indiana which has gone to the extent of employing an expert to make a civic survey of the city and lead an active campaign for community betterment. Inspired by an address which Prof. William Lloyd Davis, of the University of Wisconsin, made in a Chautauqua platform here last summer, the men and women of the city, backed by the Merchants and Manufacturers club, brought Prof. Davis here to teach them how to profit by the advantages and resources which Elwood already has. His first public meeting followed three weeks of active work by local committees, who covered every phase of municipal achievement, including health and sanitation, education, libraries, public playgrounds, municipal badges, and government, housing, location of industries, associated charities, juvenile and adult recreation, visiting nurse work community centers, civic ornamentation, etc. In addition to six lectures by Prof. Davis, L. E. Blizzard, of New York famous as a landscape architect, and Miss Wilhelmsen, of the public nurse department of Indianapolis, gave lectures.

While this is the first time that such a movement has been attempted in Indiana, the people of the city entered into it with a wonderful spirit. All of the churches, the clubs connected with it, and the good effects are being felt almost before the public section of the state were here on the opening day to observe the workings of the campaign with a view of carrying out a similar movement in their own cities.

NOTORIOUS BANDIT CAUGHT

Oklahoma City Okla., March 29.—Henry Starr, notorious Oklahoma bandit, for whom Governor Williams offered a $1,000 reward, wanted for six Oklahoma bank robberies, was captured today at Stroud, Oklahoma, after he and a band of seven robbers had held up the First National bank for $4,000 and the Stroud National for $1,600. Starr was shot by Paul Curry, a nineteen-year-old school boy.

Another Lie Nailed!

The wet ad in Saturday's paper is a continuation in the kind of the slush the brewers have been sending out to the voters of Rushville in their former ads. Being engaged in the manufacture of a bad product, they seem unable to manufacture the Truth in their ads. The Paid Agent uses his own statements and has attempted to hold up the state of Kansas before the voters of Rushville as an awful warning to any community that would banish the saloon.

Kansas Needs No Defense

But that the voter may know the limits to which the brewers will go in their garbed statements of facts to deceive, we ask

Every Voter To Read The Following

The brewers Paid Agent says, the per capita savings in poor old dry Kansas is $4.15. Why did he not tell the voters of Rushville that the average bank deposit for every man, woman and child in Kansas is $148.00 while in wet Missouri adjoining it is but $20.00? What purpose EXCEPT TO MISLEAD the voter had the brewers in taking into account the savings banks only of which Kansas has very few? Why did he not include the deposits in national and state banks as well? Why did not the brewer tell you that in dry Kansas the per capita wealth is $1750.00, while in wet Missouri it is $300.00 Why, Mr. Paid Agent of the Brewers did you not tell the voters that the average weekly wages paid to laborers in Kansas is $14.00, while that of Missouri is $8.00? Why did you not give us the information that in Missouri one farmer in every one hundred owns an automobile, while in the adjoining dry state of Kansas ONE FARMER in FIVE owns an auto? Could this Paid Agent have overlooked the fact that in the panic of 1907 when eastern banks appealed to the west for money wet Missouri with its large banks and great cities refused to send one penny to the east, while the poor old state of Kansas, which he says is going to the dogs because it is dry sent FIFTY MILLION DOLLARS to the eastern banks in their emergency. If Mr. Paid Agent of the Indiana Brewers Association wanted to tell the voters of Rushville the truth about dry Kansas, he should have said that out of its 105 counties, 86 have no insane, 59 no feeble minded, 96 HAVE NO INEBRIATES, 29 county poor farms have no inmates, 53 counties have empty jails, and 65 counties have no prisoners serving sentences.

The Kansas Legislature on February 9th, 1915, without a dissenting vote in either House or Senate passed the following resolutions:

"Whereas the liquor interests throughout the country and those allied with them in their nefarious business are publishing abroad in paid advertisements in the newspapers, certain false and defamatory statements as to prohibition in Kansas, and

Whereas, the saloon trust is using juggled statistics and falsehoods to create prejudice in the minds of the legislators of other states, and

Whereas, there is a legislative lobby alleging that evil follows in the train of prohibition and that the enforcements of the prohibitory law has resulted in multiplying crime and deteriorating all the mental and moral facilities of the people in Kansas, therefore be it

Resolved by the senate, the House of Representatives concurring therein, that all such charges are libelous and false. That the reverse of these statements is true, that the state of Kansas is cleaner, better, more advanced in mental culture, and stronger in moral fiber and conviction, that her homes are happier and more comfortable, her children better educated, that crime is less prevalent and poverty less general and that this is all due largely to the fact that the SALOON IS AN OUTLAW.

Resolved, that we declare our allegiance to the cause of sobriety and right living resulting from Constitutional Prohibition and that WE ARE OPPOSED to any return of the DOMINATION OF INTOXICATING LIQUORS."

CAN YOU EXPLAIN why the Paid Agent of the brewers, coming to Rushville as the apostle of information and bearing light of truth to the voters, did not consider it worth while to inform us of the above resolution passed by the unanimous vote of the Legislature of Kansas but little more than one month ago. Do you think the brewers in their ads were telling the truth about Kansas or did the Legislative bodies of that state in their resolution recite conditions as they are. SOMEBODY HAS LIED, and it is left to you to say who that somebody is.

He Mentioned Taxes

Why did not the Paid Agent tell you of the following wet cities and their tax rates

Hammond	$5.92
East Chicago	$5.68
Knox	$5.15

Instead of citing these cities he hunted through the list of wet cities to serve his purpose. NOT TO TELL THE TRUTH, but to mislead.

False in One, False in All

is a safe principle to follow. The business or witness that will misstate facts in one particular, when the facts could be easily procured is UNWORTHY OF BELIEF ON ANY PROPOSITION.

Sources of Wet and Dry Ads.

Who are speaking to the voters in this campaign, through the newspapers? The wet ads are being written by a Paid Agent of the Indiana Brewers Association, whose business it is to hold his own job. He is not a resident of this city, has no interest here, business or otherwise. His statements have been repeatedly shown to be unreliable and unworthy of belief. The dry ads have been written by men whom you know, the committees having been made known through the newspapers. These men live in Rushville, are in business here and are vitally interested in the growth and progress of our city.

We can not anticipate the statements of the brewers in their ad. today, but we can confidently say to the voters of Rushville that they may expect a continuation of twisted facts and garbled statements all intended to deceive.

They say the business men of Rushville prefer the return of the saloon. WE DENY THIS STATEMENT. Have they named a single business man? Not one. ASK THE BUSINESS MEN YOURSELVES and test the truthfulness of the ads. of the Paid Agent of the Brewers.

The Wet Ad States: "Rushville can not settle the drink problem for the world." Remarkable statement that is. Neither can it settle the money question, nor the tariff question, nor any other question "for the world." But it can settle its own questions without the aid of an outsider of reckless statement.

By Voting YES For Rushville

From Mrs. Hornung, Buffalo, N. Y.

BUFFALO, N. Y.—"I am writing to let you know how much your medicine has done for me. I failed terribly during the last winter and summer and every one remarked about my appearance. I suffered from a female trouble and always had pains in my back, no appetite and at times was very weak.

"I was visiting at a friend's house one day and she thought I needed Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it and have gained eight pounds, have a good appetite and am feeling better every day. Everybody is asking me what I am doing and I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. You may publish this letter if you wish and I hope others who have the same complaint will see it and get health from your medicine as I did."—Mrs. A. HORNUNG, 91 Stanton St., Buffalo, N. Y.

Made Me Well and Strong.

MACEDON, N. Y.—"I was all run down and very thin in flesh, nervous, no appetite, could not sleep and was weak, and felt badly all the time. The doctors said I had poor blood and what I had was turning to water. I took different medicines which did not help me, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me well and strong, and I am recommending it to my friends."—Mrs. FRED CHACE, R. No. 2, Macedon, N. Y.

The Change of Life.

POINT TO GIFT AT ANDERSON

Persons Here Who Have Held Out Hope for Y. M. C. A., Call Attention to $125,000 Bequest

MADE BY JAMES A. J. BRUNT

Provides Similar Amount Shall be Raised by Anderson Citizens in Six Months

Many persons here who have long lived in the hope that Rushville might some day have a Y. M. C. A. or some institution that would be attractive to boys have called attention to the bequest of James A. J. Brunt, a wealthy city of Anderson, who one day recently gave $125,000 for a Y. M. C. A. if a similar amount is raised by Anderson citizens within six months. Concerning the bequest the Anderson Daily Bulletin says in part:

In the provisions which accompany the gift, Sanford M. Keltner, Jesse L. Vermillion, Thomas B. Orr, Willis S. Ellis and William S. Diven were named as a board of trustees to select the site for the building, purchase the property and upon the plans and have the entire matter in charge.

Mr. Brunt's offer contains the provision that a similar sum of money must be raised by the citizens of Anderson within six months before his gift may be taken advantage of. Sixty per cent of the total sum, or $75,000, shall be raised within four months, the record says, the remaining $50,000 to be subscribed before the expiration of the following two months.

In case the total of $250,000 or more is raised through Mr. Brunt's gift and the subscription of Anderson residents, the trustees who have been named then will definitely select and purchase a site, let the contract for the building, and the work will be pushed through with utmost haste.

A canvass of local citizens will be started at once toward raising the prescribed amount of money. It is probable that another committee of five men will be selected, which will be active in visiting business men, fathers of families and others interested in boys' welfare. This committee will act in co-operation with the board of trustees.

Prospects for the success of the attempt to equal the donation of Mr. Brunt are extremely bright, say the members of the board of trustees. They believe that there are a dozen or more men in this city who will be willing to pledge sums reaching into the thousands of dollars. With these gifts as a start, a comparatively great amount of the fund is expected to be raised. Smaller donations will aid to swell the fund, and with Anderson's having a population close to 30,000, it is believed that the amount will be forthcoming long before the stated time has elapsed.

While general plans for the campaign to raise the fund have been suggested to the trustees, the detailed arrangements are not complete. These plans will be decided upon within the course of the next few days and then will be put into actual operation. It has been decided to get into communication with the national headquarters of the Y. M. C. A. and in this way to get valuable suggestions upon the best manner in which to launch and push the campaign. As soon as they take definite form an announcement will be made.

Mr. Brunt at several former times has made substantial monetary gifts to deserving institutions of this state. Several years ago, he gave $10,000 to the Indianapolis Y. M. C. A. Since that time, the Capital City institution has been able to add to its size and to greatly increase its capacity in many ways. About the same time he donated $10,000 to the Winona Technical Institute.

Message No. 4

To the Business Men of Rushville

A young doctor, making a start in a small town, decided that to be prosperous he must look prosperous. He bought a new buggy and two good horses. Although he had only a few patients he always kept on the jump, attending to his patients' smallest needs. People began to notice this young doctor driving about town and they called him because he looked busy and prosperous. He got his start—a start that led to a comfortable practice.

Our town, like this doctor, must look prosperous to be prosperous. Clean streets, attractive store windows, well-painted buildings and dwellings give the prosperous air. Well-painted buildings are greatest of these.

OLDEST AMERICAN FRIGATE TO BE BURNED FOR COPPER

(By United Press.)

San Francisco, Mar. 29.—The Independence, oldest American man-of-war afloat will be burned for the sake of the copper in her hull and other metal fixings.

This decision has been reached by Capt. John H. Rinder of Berkeley, who recently purchased the vessel at auction for $3515.

The Independence is the last of the war frigates built for the war of 1812 with England and is one of the most famous ships the American navy ever boasted. Her keel was laid down in 1812. In her day she was to the United States Navy what the most modern superdreadnaughts is to the navies of today. She was the greatest fighting vessel afloat, boasting three decks and 74 guns.

In 1848 she was sent around the Horn and for many years was used as a patrol ship on the Pacific coast. Her headquarters were at Mare Island and she was in active service until 1868 when she was officially declared obsolete and assigned to the Mare Island navy yard as a training ship.

Last year the navy department decided to sell the famous old vessel, in spite of the protests by patriotic societies in all parts of the country. Capt. Rinder bought the frigate, intending to exhibit her at the Panama Pacific Exposition, but the plans fell through.

THE INDIANAPOLIS STAR

(Saturday, March 27, 1915.)

Columbus Goes "Wet"

"Although every ward in Columbus voted 'wet' at Thursday's election, it would be a rank injustice to brand the whole city as in the clutches of the 'demon rum.'

"The question of dealing with the awful scourge of intemperance is at all times a matter of ways and means; and while the forces of law and order are almost always arrayed on the 'dry' side in these option contests, a 'wet' victory does not necessarily mean that a town prefers intemperance to temperance.

"Sometimes it means that experience has demonstrated the comparative advantages of license as opposed to no-license as a method of curbing the liquor power. No city of the moral and intellectual standards of Columbus would go 'wet,' except for a widespread conviction among the best citizenship that for the time being and under the peculiar local circumstances the drink evil can be better controlled with open saloons than under nominal prohibition."

PASTORS REPLY ON LIQUOR TOPIC

man is either "wet" or "dry". He said old Pilot was a neutral; that he washed his hands of the whole matter and turned Jesus over to the rabble, and then released a robber. The minister added there were men who were still washing in Pilot's washbowl.

The third consideration, the Rev. Mr. Huntington said, for the voter is that the liquor traffic is the greatest enemy of mankind. After the victory was gained, the pastor continued, it behooves the temperance people to hold the ground. He said it was a pity that when Rushville voted "dry" before that the work was not followed up; pity that the law was not enforced. He said it seemed to be cheap politics and cheap whiskey that held up justice. Lately, he declared, the authorities, assisted by the citizens, have twisted the "tiger's" tail, and "it is up to us to twist his tail until he howls himself to death or his tail is twisted off."

The Rev. C. M. Vocum, of the Main Street Christian church, discussed "The Local Issue Before Us." He asserted, in opening, that prohibition was coming and that in as much it was coming, it is a question whether "we shall get in the vanguard or wait until someone forces us to get in."

He refuted the rumor which has been circulated that the preachers are not on the tax duplicate. He read the list of preachers and showed their taxes were paid and had been even since they had lived here. He held up his last tax receipt and asked what it was. Someone in the audience recognized it.

"There are 367 fellows who signed the 'wet' petition for an election who wouldn't recognize it if they saw it coming down the middle of the street in broad daylight," the pastor said.

He read his tax receipt and declared what he paid for half of the year 1912 would cover 367 fellows on the petitions and still have over 15 to spare.

He called attention to the fact that the fellows who had been going to Connersville never returned with any of the necessities, such as clothing and groceries, but that they brought home "wet" goods when they brought anything. He said four-elevenths of the "wet" advertisement about the empty store rooms was "a downright lie." He continued that that characterizes the liquor ads, and that if a fellow "lies half way, you had better watch him all the way." He said it took 30,000 a year to run the Rushville schools, and said the schools had better close down than to get $362 a year of the amount from saloon licenses.

He pointed to the statement of a high Russian official who asserted Russia had added to her national resources by banishing whiskey. He asserted the saloon is not a taxpayer, but a tax collector, and that it costs too much to have them. He asserted that the liquor ad. lied about the comparative tax rates by twisting them. He called attention to the fact that the Columbus ("wet") tax rate had been given as $3.04 instead of $3.40 as it should have been and that they did not use the city tax rate in Rushville in making comparisons, but garbled it, not showing that increases were not so much in the city as in the other divisions.

"If we are going to have 'blind tigers,' we will have to deal with the same bunch," said the Minister. "If we can't trust them now, can we trust them with a saloon?"

He asserted that a man recently tried in a liquor case in the city court admitted on the stand he had rented a room to run a saloon in case the city went "wet." He said the recent prosecutions "guarantee us better law enforcement." He said some men had said they would vote "wet" because the law was not being enforced and that now they were going to vote "wet" because the law violators were being persecuted.

"Will they break the law?" he asked. The minister then pointed out that alws of the land says man shall not kill or steal, but that they kill and steal nevertheless. He then asked if the people should license a few to kill and steal and prevent the others from doing likewise.

Basis of Agitation

At the union service at the Main St. Christian church Sunday night the Rev. A. D. Batchelor spoke on the "Basis of Modern Temperance Agitation." He said in part:

"Present temperance agitation has its foundation in science and not in sentiment. Twentieth century science has given the traffic the worst indictment it has ever received. It is responsible for the present prohibition wave."

"1. Medical Science has indicted it. Surgeons have discovered that alcoholic patients are more apt to expire in an operation. It makes men more liable to disease by lowering the physical powers of resistance. It has been observed that abstainers live longer than drinkers. The proportion is one to four. Steady drinking clogs the liver, affects the kidneys, stupifies the brain chokes the lungs, loads the body with dropsical fluids and unwholesome fats. Thus it causes a deterioration of bodily tissues hastens the changes old age, brings and shortens the duration of life. Medical science has observed that cancer is more prevalent in beer drinking communities. There is now known to medical science a well known class of alcoholic diseases. Huge Munsterberg of Harvard Uni. says, that intoxicated have 'an inhibitory influence on mind or body.' Even the national Health Office of Germany has prepared a mass of material showing the injurious effects of intoxicants."

"Life insurance companies have indicted it. They have discovered that the drinker is not a good risk. They have discovered that 66,000 deaths a year are directly due to intoxicants. Seeing drink shortens life they have found it unprofitable to insure the drinker. Arthur Hunter, actuary of the N. Y. Life Insurance Co., made a study of 2,000,000 deaths of policy holders in 25 years. He found that two drinkers died to one abstainer. Investigations by Life Insurance experts in Great Britain and the U. S. show that the mortality of the drinker is in excess of that of the abstainer. Between 20 and 30 years the number of deaths is 11 per cent in excess; between 30 and 40 it is 68 per cent in excess; between 40 and 50 it 75 percent in excess. The percentage decreases after this age because by that time nearly all the drinkers are in their graves. There is no mawkish sentiment about life insurance investigations. They are based upon cold facts. They have found the facts against the drinker. They have eliminated him from their risks as a matter of pure business."

"3. The railroads have indicted it. They have discovered the drunken employee to be too great liability for the road. He does less work than the abstainer. He is more apt to meet with accident and more liable to cause the train to be wrecked and thus increase the number of damage suits. Railroads are prohibiting their men from drinking not only during work hours, but also during off-hours. Even in Germany this stand is taken by the railroads. The Penn R. R. watched 125,226 employees last year and not a single case of booze was reported. No one needs fear to ride on that road with a clear headed, sober engineer with isteady hand upon the throttle. Last year the Penn. Co. refused to renew licenses for the sale of liquor in the Botad St. station Phila and the N. Y. terminal.

"4. The world's martial leaders have indicted it. The canteen has been banished from the army. It has been forbidden in the navy. Sec. Daniels in his sweeping order for the navy said that the petition in the navy called for a clear head and steady hand. Russia found it a dangerous thing in time of war. It has been discovered that there is less sickness among abstainers in the army; that they stand fatigue better than drinkers; that they have greater endurance in long rapid marches; that 1/9 fewer of them are convicted by court martial; that 1/3 fewer of them are disciplined for insubordination. The late Lord Roberts said, 'The period of the dissolute, improvident soldier is past.' The drinker is being cashiered out of service."

"5. The captains of industry have indicted it. They have discovered the drinker to be less reliable. Intoxicants cause their workmen to lose time. It has been estimated that $500,000,000 are lost in time each year in the factories in the U. S. through the consumers of strong drink. It destroys their efficiency. It makes them less energetic and less alert. The drinker cannot stand as much strain, is more easily exhausted. It makes the workman more liable to accident. It is a big drain on their wages and leads to suffering in their families. A few years ago M. Rudolph Meyhoffer, of Brussels, came to this country to study industrial conditions. He reported that America's commercial supremacy was due to the sobriety of American workmen; and that this sobriety was due to children carrying from the schools to the home the instruction on the baleful effects of alcoholic drinks. It is reported that Russia has increased from 30 to 50 per cent in productivity since prohibition went into effect."

"More might be said. But this is sufficient to show that modern temperance agitation is founded not upon fanaticism, but upon science. Clear-headed business men have found the saloon to be a liability and not an asset. We will give proof of our intelligence if we stay on the 'dry' side of this question."

LETTERS GIVE A CLEW TO ROBBER

SEEN IN MERCER'S HOUSE

Livery Rig Found in Front of Place Causes Suspicion to Rest on Wrong Person First.

Clifford "Pansy" Morris, of Greensburg, is wanted by the local officials for breaking into the home of W. S. Mercer in Milroy. It was through a rather strange circumstance that suspicion rested on Morris and if he is the one that was found in the Mercer home he could probably have escaped had he not been in such a big hurry.

About one-thirty o'clock this morning Mrs. Mercer was awakened by a sound coming from the dining room of their home. She awakened her husband telling him she believed there was someone in the house. Mr. Mercer obtained his revolver and started in search of the man. He found a man going through the drawers of a sideboard of the dining room.

The man ran from the house and was followed by Mercer. Mr. Mercer in the excitement forgot to shoot and the stranger escaped. On going out doors Mr. Mercer found a horse and buggy hitched in front of the house. The would-be burglar from all indications had driven up in front of the house and intended to use the rig to escape, but had to leave so hurriedly that he forgot all about the rig.

There was nothing of value taken from the Mercer home although there was between $15 and $20 in the sideboard where the man was working. Mr. Mercer is a liveryman of Milroy and recognized the outfit as having come from a Greensburg livery barn. An overcoat was found in the buggy containing a bunch of letters addressed to Roy Layton, also of Greensburg.

The liveryman in Greensburg and Layton came to Milroy this morning. Layton explained the presence of his coat in the buggy stating that he had loaned it to Morris. Thus Morris was connected with the attempted robbery. It was stated that Morris has been going with a girl living on the Chester Whitman farm, one mile west of Milroy, and the supposition of the authorities is that he stopped at the Mercer home on the return trip. The front door of the Mercer home was not locked and it is believed the alleged robber gained entrance in this manner.

The Layton boy has been going with a girl in Sandusky and the two couples were together yesterday in Greensburg. Layton stated that Morris took both of the girls home and that he was to get his overcoat back as soon as Morris returned from Milroy to Greensburg. The finding of the overcoat gave the officers a clew to work on and it was at first thought that Layton was the one wanted, but he went to Milroy this morning to clear himself.

Mr. Mercer was in Greensburg this afternoon and the officers there are on the lookout for Morris.

PUTS IN A BUSY DAY AT THE TENT

Col. D. M. Perry, Eloquent Auctioneer, Exhorts Men to Think Before Option Election.

VOTE FOR HOME AND FAMILY

Emerson Ballard Says That if Saloon is Asset, City Should Advertise it as Such.

Col. D. M. Perry, cattle auctioneer of Columbus, O., and a very energetic "dry" advocate, spoke to three large audiences of men yesterday in the tent on the foundry lot. He was a good story teller. He swept the crowds with his eloquent appeals; he told pathetic tales of life that he had come in contact with and he bitterly attacked the saloon traffic. He said he knew the business from the cradle to the grave.

His one exhortation, made time and again to men during his three addresses, was that they think. He declared that if they would but think there would be no doubt about the way they voted. With reference to this, he told the story of a trip he made from Illinois to California to keep a business engagement.

He was on the back of an observation car and he waved to every farmer, every section laborer, every person he saw. Some "high-toned" folks, he said, were riding in the same car. They were ridiculing him and he knew it. Soon he went in the coach and sat down beside a very well dressed woman. Soon he was in conversation with her. He intended, he said, to show her she did not think, just as so many people do not.

He asked her if she ever thought of the engineer who was running the engine that pulled the train true and steady and was carrying them across the continent. He told her he would wave at him every chance he got. Col. Perry said he asked if she ever thought of that young fellow who was pouring coal into the fire-box to make the engine go. He asked her if she ever thought of the shop boys who made that engine sore and certain. He asked her if she ever thought of the Italian section hands who were digging away day by day keeping the track in excellent repair. And before he finished, Col. Perry declared, he had every one in that observation car who had been laughing at him waving at every yellow dog they saw along the track, and doing it gladly.

With all of his eloquent gestures and his freakish maneuvering on the platform, Col. Perry made the story so real and intensely interesting that when he reached the climax, the crowd of men convulsed with laughter. But the next moment his face was straight.

"Listen men," he added, "think, think, that's all you have to do. If you think you will vote against the saloon and for your home and family. Do any of you want to furnish the raw material for the seven manufacturing institutions which they want to bring back here. See that boy playing down there in the saw-dust he's some of your raw material. Think, men, just think, before you go to the polls next Tuesday and you will do the right thing."

"You in Rushville here have blacksmiths," he said earlier in his afternoon speech. "God bless 'em! Your blacksmith goes down to his shop in the morning and starts work on iron that once came from the mountain sides. He works all day and what does he have at night? Horse shoes, a finished product. Here's a manufacturing establishment in your

Discuss Phases of Local Option Election at Mass Meeting at Christian Church.

THEY ANSWER FALSE RUMORS

Show That Liquor Agitation is Not Based on Fanaticism, But on Sound Logic.

Four ministers of Rushville took opportunity at the closing mass meeting of the "dry" campaign at the Main Street Christian church last night to reply to assertions made in "wet" advertisements and false rumors which had been circulated.

The Rev. D. Ira Lambert of the First Presbyterian church discussed "Personal Liberty." He said it made his heart burn every time he used to pass the national headquarters of "Personal Liberty League" at Cincinnati, with the stars and stripes floating over it, when he thought of the deeds which had been enacted under the flag.

He said that part of the constitution which refers to the freedom and equality of men is often misinterpreted. He said all men were created free and equal before God. There is no freedom, he asserted, except that we bring ourselves into harmony with the Great Giver of life. A deception has been published in our community in the last few days, he declared, in that it was asserted 50 per cent. want prohibition and 50 per cent. are against it, and that those for it have no right to force it on those against it.

"After all," he continued, "there is no personal liberty—no liberty that is independent of every man or above the community. A man has recently been placed in the city park and certain restrictions thrown about him. If there is absolute personal liberty, that man has a right to sit in this audience tonight. That liberty which belongs to you and me is that liberty which takes into consideration the rights of others.

"Personal liberty is enjoined upon us by the Word of God—it isn't your right; it's the other person's right. It is yours and my personal liberty to go out and overthrow that which would be a detriment to the community."

The Rev. S. G. Huntington of the First Baptist church spoke on "The Responsibility of the Voter." He said the first consideration was to understand how to vote—not the mechanical act—but the voter must consider the question. He asserted it is a moral problem and that the liquor traffic says it is not. He said that the writer of "wet" advertisements the secretary of the Indiana Brewers association, has failed to read the Bible or tells willing falsehoods. The pastor said he took it both were the case. He held a copy of the "wet" advertisements in his hands.

"I am sorry," he continued, "that we have a local paper that will admit to its columns such dope as that. It is a combination of falsehoods that would disgrace one of Don Roberts' papers in Terre Haute. When the voter understands this to be a moral question, he will vote right."

"The writer of this ad. calls Jesus Christ a liar. The man who denies the liquor question is a moral one is blind—squinty-eyed."

The second responsibility of the voter is to go to the polls and vote. The fellow who stays at home is a coward and traitor to his community, the speaker asserted. There is no neutral side, he continued, a

SENDS WITNESS TO JAIL FOR PERJURY

Judge Anderson Prefers Charge Against Terre Haute Bartender During Trial Today.

ONE DENIAL AFTER ANOTHER

Indianapolis, Ind., March 29.—Judge A. B. Anderson in federal court today ordered the United States marshal to take William Dazern to jail on the charge of perjury. Dazern had been testifying for the defense in the Terre Haute election corruption conspiracy trial and had flatly denied evidence given by 24 government witnesses.

"Jail this witness on a perjury charge and don't release him until a bond of $5,000 has been approved in open court," said Judge Anderson.

Early in Dazern's testimony District Attorney Dailey had interrupted with a demand that a perjury charge be preferred against him. Following an objection by Attorney Stanley for the defense, Judge Anderson reproved Dailey, saying such remarks should not be made before a jury.

PASSENGER BOAT SENT TO BOTTOM

African Liner Falada is Sunk by German Submarine and Eight Persons Lose Lives.

TWO OTHER SHIPS SENT DOWN

Survivor of Falada Says Crew of Submarine Laughed as Passengers Floundered.

(By United Press.)

London, March 29.—The African liner Falada, carrying 140 passengers, was torpedoed off Milford Haven Sunday afternoon, the admiralty announced this afternoon. She is the first big passenger carrying liner to fall victim to German submarine attacks. Eight of her passengers and crew were drowned. The others were landed at Cardiff today.

Captain Toft of the Falada and an un-named lieutenant were reported among the dead in a message to the Elder company, owners of the Falada said this afternoon. Two stewardesses were also drowned. The chief officer was in the water two and one half hours before he was rescued.

Confirmation of the report of the torpedoing of the Falada reached the admiralty a few minutes after the word that the British steamer Aquilla had been torpedoed off the southwest coast of Wales. The admiralty believes the same submarine torpedoed the Aquilla and Falada that sunk the Visage Saturday by Shell fire.

The Falada was bound for the west coast of Africa. Shortly after noon Sunday Captain Toft sighted the periscope of the submarine. Almost immediately the submarine appeared above the surface and signaled the Falada to lower her boats.

"The passengers, or most of them, were in the dining room," said one of the survivors. "Orders were given for the boats to be lowered but before this could be done the submarine shot a torpedo against the ship, striking near the engine room."

"A heavy sea was running and 3 of the first boats put over were swamped. The other boats, in spite of the danger, rode to the aid of those struggling in the water. Meanwhile the submarine was circling around the spot without making any effort to aid. I saw part of the submarine crew's actually laughing at us. The submarine finally dived and disappeared."

"Within an hour or more after other boats came to our aid."

Mrs. J. L. Champion is ill at her home in Jersey City.

Knowing the Small Boy

The small boy has some very definite ideas about his own wearing apparel.

Frequently he and his parents have their points of difference, but in the main the boy's ideas are sound.

Do you know that there are clothiers who have studied boy nature so that they know a boy almost as well as he does himself.

They have built boy's clothing founded on such knowledge.

They make and sell what might be termed scientifically correct clothing for boys.

Where to find such places?

Tax Payers and Business Men

Go over the records of the seven saloon
keepers that held license for the past two years in Rushville and you will find it a clean record, not a single indictment against any one of them. The people that spend the money are the people that put the business
in a town.

Tuesday is the day to vote No, and all get together and put Rushville back on the map
where it belongs, and have a Bigger and Better Rushville. We need help in our city.
We need a new city hall, new fire truck and
our taxes reduced instead of going to $4.00,
and a 10 per cent increase in valuation of our real estate. Nineteen surrounding towns are now wet and let's make it twenty by voting
"NO" Tuesday—We lived within the law
before and will do so again.

Rushville could be made one of the best
towns in the state, as it was once, and after Tuesday all roads will lead to Rushville. It is not a crime to drink a glass of beer. Our leading men of Rushville are self made men, fought their own battles and have succeeded
regardless of temptation. You will not always be able to sweep a clean path for your boy, therefore, teach him to meet all temptations as we have all done. If a poor man can not pay his taxes or coal bill, he should be pitied and prayed for, and not condemned
or centured before the public.

VOTE "NO" FOR RUSHVILLE

Mr. Jacob Dunwoody of 603 West Ninth St., Rushville, Ind., says: "Some few months ago I noticed my kidneys were not acting properly. They were off in action and bothered me a great deal at night. I would have to get up frequently. I suffered with backache continually and could find no relief. At last I decided to try Lloyd's Kidney & Rheumatism Tablets, the new scientific prescription. Others had told me that they would give me quick relief. I got a box and after taking only a few I noticed an improvement. My kidneys have not given me a bit of trouble now for a long time and the backache has left me entirely. Others will find quick relief in Lloyd's, I am sure.

PROBLEM FOR UNITED STATES.

(By United Press.)

Washington, March 29.—With the Okuma government overwhelmingly indorsed by the Japanese, the far eastern situation has become the real problem for the United States to solve today.

Official figures given out by the Japanese embassy here showed that Count Okuma can figure on 213 votes in the new house against 167 in opposition.

Officials here realized that the result is a triumph of militarism.

Acts of Recent Legislature Are Explained by Expert, John A. Lapp

(This is the thirteenth of a series of articles explaining the new state laws, written for the United Press by John A. Lapp, director of the bureau of legislative information. Editor.)

Taxation

The preeminent subject of taxation was much discussed at the recent session of the legislature and some forward steps taken which may eventually work for the solution of the vexed question. That some relief is imperative needs no comment. The fact that in some places a tax rate of more than 5% prevails shows clearly that relief must be given. What that relief shall be in the form of legislation is not entirely clear.

For this reason that it is a difficult question, the legislature provided for the appointment of a commission to study the subject and report two years hence a plan together with legislative bills to carry the plan into effect. The commission serves without compensation but they are directed to employ an expert on taxation to do the investigating and to formulate plans under the direction of the commission.

The legislation of the session to be put into immediate action is of considerable importance. The state board of tax commissioners is given additional power in equalizing taxes by removing the discretion of the county auditor in giving the required notices.

The state board is also given power to institute proceedings for removal against county assessors in the circuit court for failure to perform their duties and if the court finds the charges true, they shall cause removal. The assessor has the right to appeal as in other cases. The county assessors are directed to carry out the orders of the state board, and if they fail or refuse to do so, the state board can demand their removal.

ISLAM'S CAPITAL
BEING BOMBARDED

Roar of Hostile Guns Shaking Constantinople and Bombs are Being Dropped on City

RUSSIANS BECOME ACTIVE

London, March 29.—The roar of hostile guns is shaking Constantinople. Russian shells are falling within twelve miles of the Sultan's palace. For the first time in history Islam's capital has been bombarded from the air.

An official statement from Constantinople today said:

"Early Sunday Russian warships shelled our guard ships at the Bosphorus at long range without doing any extensive damage. The bombardment lasted for a short time and the enemy's squadron then steamed out of sight."

A semi-official statement from Petrograd said:

"Further aerial reconnaissances show that our guns did considerable damage in Sunday morning's bombardment on the outer forts and batteries of the Bosphorus. On both sides of the straits our gunners scored hits. Our aviators have dropped bombs in the suburbs of Constantinople. The action is continuing."

TWO COLORED MEN

William Carter and Marshall Spurrier Cause Trouble After Having Chance to go Home.

NO CHARGES ARE MADE YET

William Carter and Marshall Spurrier, colored, were arrested Saturday night about ten o'clock following a disturbance on the court house square. The men are still held in jail, although no charges have been placed against them. It is understood that the two men who had been drinking and Policeman Yakey ordered them off the streets, giving them a chance to go home. Yakey states that Spurrier was drunk and

An Absolute Falsehood.

Another wilful misrepresentation of the Paid Agent of the Indiana Brewers association is found in the mis-statement made in comparing the tax rate here and at Columbus. The brewery ad says Columbus (wet) city rate is $1.10, and the Rushville (dry) city rate is $1.85. This is an absolute and unqualified falsehood. The city tax rate in Rushville is $1.15. The brewery ad writer lied seventy cents worth. The falsehood was deliberate. In five minutes it could be determined what the city tax rate in Rushville was if the writer had cared to be honest about it. But the brewery ad writer said in large black-face type that the Rushville tax rate was $1.85. If the brewery ad writer would insert such a falsehood when he knew it would be detected, when he knew well informed persons know better, when he knew that it would be refuted, just how far would he go in stating absolute falsehoods concerning data which would not be detected and which there is not time this late period in the campaign to investigate. The tax rate was raised from $1.00 only this year, largely because of debts left over from the out-going administration, which should have raised the rate the year previous, and because of $12,000 spent on new water wells.

SPECIAL JUDGE ON BENCH

F. C. Gause Makes Findings in Several Cases Today.

Judge Fred C. Gause, of Newcastle, was here today occupying the bench in the circuit court. Judge Gause was making issues in several of the cases that he has been appointed to hear by Judge Sparks. In the partition suit brought by Henry S. Steele and Leander P. Steele against E. Washington Veatch, et al., Judge Gause found for the plaintiff and ordered a partition made of the land. John H. Kiplinger and A. L. Gary were appointed commissioners to make the sale and were placed under $15,000 bond. The case of Robert J. Hall against John P. Smelser asking for the appointment of a guardian was dismissed this morning. Mr. Smelser has died since the guardianship suit was filed.

The social meeting of James E. Watson's class of the M. E. Sunday school, which was to have been held Tuesday evening, has been postponed and the date will be announced later.

that Carter promised to take him home.

The police state that instead of going home they continued to bother people and then Yakey started to make the arrest. It is alleged that one of the colored men attempted to draw a knife. This was Carter. Rosenerance was soon on scene and Spurrier ran. "Chuck" Sorrell, who had been employed as special policeman at the tent on the foundry lot called to Spurrier to stop but he did not do so. Sorrell says the man attempted to cut him as he ran. Sorrell fired a shot in the air and this attracted a large crowd. The police were compelled to use force in taking the men to jail.

city. It turns out a finished product. The men who make it are proud of it.

"But what about these seven manufacturing plants that they are trying to put back in your town? What about 'em, men? Just think, think. Are these manufacturing plants proud of their product? Do they take them to the county fair and exhibit them as your merchants and manufacturers do? No, they kick them into the street. They are through with them when they become a finished product. The raw material is your boy and some other boy. The business seeks to make drunkards and the saloon that doesn't is not a success."

He had a word for the moderate drinker. And he had a word for the saloon advocate who believes there should be saloons for the betterment of the town. He asked the "wet" man, if he thought the town was better off with the saloons, why he did not send his son down to the saloon and tell him to loaf there.

"Go on, son," he advised the "wet" man to say, "these saloons are a good thing for our town. We have to keep them going. Here's fifty cents; go down to the saloons and patronize them. And here, daughter, these wine rooms are good things. They make the town better. Go down there and entertain the boys at the saloon."

He urged the "drys" to forget politics and when the next election comes around, find out where a man stands on the liquor question before he votes for him. He declared it was the fault of the "drys" that they had been misled and had voted for a legislature that repealed the county local option law in Indiana and supplanted it with the town, city and township law. Under the county local option law Rush county went "dry" by a majority of 2,100 votes.

Col. Perry also declared vehemently that it was the duty of every "dry" to work on election day. He said they should roll up their sleeves and get into the fight, and that the women and children should also get into the struggle.

Col. Perry sailed in at the first meeting Sunday morning addressing the men's adult Bible classes at the tent, calling a spade a spade. Near the close of his speech he held up his five fingers and asked the men to watch him.

"This thumb here," he said, "is the 'wet' Christian. The first finger is the man you elected to the legislature. This second finger is the legislature composed of the men you elected which passed laws to make the saloons possible. The third finger represents the saloons. The fourth and last finger is the drunks who are the product of the saloon. It is a case of cause and effect. Remove the thumb and you remove the last finger. Now you men think a little."

Col. Perry said that up to nine years ago he was a drinking man. In most remarkable and entertaining language, he described the difference between his life now and what it was when he drank.

He said that there were few men who had a big enough throat to drive an automobile down it, but that many men were doing it by laying enough down on the bar to buy an automobile. He said he used to buy the automobile that the saloon keeper drove, but that now he was driving one of his own.

Emerson Ballard Speaks.

Emerson Ballard of Crawfordsville spoke at the tent Saturday afternoon and night. He made a most logical appeal to keep saloons out of Rushville. He compared conditions in Crawfordsville with those of the days of the saloon in the "Athens of Indiana." He said that in two years after the saloons were voted out the bank deposits increased $600,000. He recited other figures to show how Crawfordsville was benefited under "dry" conditions.

Mr. Ballard said he did not come here to criticize the business man who did not declare his stand on the liquor question. He said the business ness man was harried enough but that the business man need only to make a few comparisons between "wet" and "dry" years to see which conditions was best.

He recalled cases in Crawfordsville. He told of the leading shoe merchant who said he would not vote to oust the saloons because they helped business. But the saloons were put out, Mr. Ballard said, and the next time there was an election, Mr. Shoe Merchant came up to "dry" headquarters and declared that he did not want to be known in the thing, but that he was "dry" because the town was better off. He told of the leading clothing merchant, a Jew, who was first "wet" and then "dry" at the next election after the city had been "dry" because he had sold $6,000 worth more goods during a "dry" year than a "wet" year. He also cited instances, giving the names, where business men profited by declaring themselves "dry."

Mr. Ballard marveled at the fact that anyone should consider the saloon an asset, a means of drawing trade. He had prospectuses from Terre Haute, Fort Wayne, South Bend and other large Indiana cities, which were published by the business men's organizations of the respective cities. No one of them mentioned their saloons. They recited the number of churches, the factories, the number of miles of improved streets, the banks and other institutions of which they were proud, but never a word of the saloons, he said.

TODAY'S ODDEST STORY
St Paul, Minn., Mar. 29.—Finding $4,000 worth of checks in the walls of a building they were tearing down, workmen rushed to Martin Krammer who had a saloon in the building for eighteen years. They scented a million-dollar mystery. "Nicht, Keine mystery. I have those checks from young men taken. They were nicht gut. So I have them in the hole by the wall put," he explained.

CITY OF ELWOOD WENT TO SCHOOL

Took Course in How to Manage City, Financially, Politically and Physically

KNOWN AS WELCOME WEEK

City Employed Expert to Make Survey of Civic Conditions—Campaign is Started

(By United Press.)

Elwood, Ind., Mar. 29.—All Elwood went to school last week—not to the school where simply A, B, C's are learned, but to the school where men, women, young and old, learned more about how to manage a city for the best interest of its people, financially, politically, morally and physically. The idea took a tremendous hold on the people, and the public lectures and discussions, were held in the largest auditorium in the city packing it afternoon and night.

It was Welcome Week in Elwood, the first city in Indiana which has gone to the extent of employing an expert to make a civic survey of the city and lead an active campaign for community betterment. Inspired by an address which Prof. William Lloyd Davis, of the University of Wisconsin, made in a Chautauqua platform here last summer, the men and women of the city, backed by the Merchants and Manufacturers club, brought Prof. Davis here to teach them how to profit by the advantages and resources which Elwood already has. His first public meeting followed three weeks of active work by local committees, who covered every phase of municipal achievement, including health and sanitation, education, libraries, public playgrounds, municipal badges, and government, housing, location of industries, associated charities, juvenile and adult recreation, visiting nurse works, community centers, civic ornamentation, etc. In addition to six lectures by Prof. Davis, L. E. Blizard, of New York famous as a landscape architect, and Miss Wilhelmson, of the public nurse department of Indianapolis, gave lectures.

While this is the first time that such a movement has been attempted in Indiana, the people of the city entered into it with a wonderful spirit. All of the churches, the clubs connected with in it, and the good effects are being felt almost before the public section of the state were here on the opening day to observe the workings of the campaign with a view of carrying out a similar movement in their own cities.

Another Lie Nailed!

The wet ad in Saturday's paper is a continuation in the kind of the slush the brewers have been sending out to the voters of Rushville in their former ads. Being engaged in the manufacture of a bad product, they seem unable to manufacture the Truth in their ads. The Paid Agent uses his own statements and has attempted to hold up the state of Kansas before the voters of Rushville as an awful warning to any community that would banish the saloon.

Kansas Needs No Defense

But that the voter may know the limits to which the brewers will go in their garbed statements of facts to deceive, we ask

Every Voter To Read The Following

The brewers Paid Agent says, the per capita savings in poor old dry Kansas is $4.15. Why did he not tell the voters of Rushville that the average bank deposit for every man, woman and child in Kansas is $148.00 while in wet Missouri adjoining it is but $20.00? What purpose EXCEPT TO MISLEAD the voter had the brewers in taking into account the savings banks only of which Kansas has very few? Why did he not include the deposits in national and state banks as well? Why did not the brewer tell you that in dry Kansas the per capita wealth is $1750.00, while in wet Missouri it is $300.00? Why, Mr. Paid Agent of the Brewers did you not tell the voters that the average weekly wages paid to laborers in Kansas is $14.00, while that of Missouri is $8.00? Why did you not give us the information that in Missouri one farmer in every one hundred owns an automobile, while in the adjoining dry state of Kansas ONE FARMER IN FIVE owns an auto? Could this Paid Agent have overlooked the fact that in the panic of 1907 when eastern banks appealed to the west for money wet Missouri with its large banks and great cities refused to send one penny to the east, while the poor old state of Kansas, which he says is going to the dogs because it is dry sent FIFTY MILLION DOLLARS to the eastern banks in their emergency. If Mr. Paid Agent of the Indiana Brewers Association wanted to tell the voters of Rushville the truth about dry Kansas, he should have said that out of its 105 counties, 86 have no insane, 59 no feeble minded, 96 HAVE NO INEBRIATES, 29 county poor farms have no inmates, 53 counties have empty jails, and 65 counties have no prisoners serving sentences.

The Kansas Legislature on February 9th, 1915, without a dissenting vote in either House or Senate passed the following resolutions:

"Whereas the liquor interests throughout the country and those allied with them in their nefarious business are publishing abroad in paid advertisements in the newspapers, certain false and defamatory statements as to prohibition in Kansas, and

Whereas, the saloon trust is using juggled statistics and falsehoods to create prejudice in the minds of the legislators of other states, and

Whereas, there is a legislative lobby alleging that evil follows in the train of prohibition and that the enforcements of the prohibitory law has resulted in multiplying crime and deteriorating all the mental and moral facilities of the people in Kansas, therefore be it

Resolved by the senate, the House of Representatives concurring therein, that all such charges are libelous and false. That the reverse of these statements is true, that the state of Kansas is cleaner, better, more advanced in mental culture, and stronger in moral fiber and conviction, that her homes are happier and more comfortable, her children better educated, that crime is less prevalent and poverty less general and that this is all due largely to the fact that the SALOON IS AN OUTLAW.

Resolved, that we declare our allegiance to the cause of sobriety and right living resulting from Constitutional Prohibition and that WE ARE OPPOSED to any return of the DOMINATION OF INTOXICATING LIQUORS."

CAN YOU EXPLAIN why the Paid Agent of the brewers, coming to Rushville as the apostle of information and bearing light of truth to the voters, did not consider it worth while to inform us of the above resolution passed by the unanimous vote of the Legislature of Kansas but little more than one month ago. Do you think the brewers in their ads were telling the truth about Kansas or did the Legislative bodies of that state in their resolution recite conditions as they are. SOMEBODY HAS LIED, and it is left to you to say who that somebody is.

He Mentioned Taxes

Why did not the Paid Agent tell you of the following wet cities and their tax rates

Hammond	$5.92
East Chicago	$5.68
Knox	$5.15

Instead of citing these cities he hunted through the list of wet cities to serve his purpose. NOT TO TELL THE TRUTH, but to mislead.

False in One, False in All

is a safe principle to follow. The business or witness that will misstate facts in one particular, when the facts could be easily procured is UNWORTHY OF BELIEF ON ANY PROPOSITION.

Sources of Wet and Dry Ads.

Who are speaking to the voters in this campaign, through the newspapers? The wet ads are being written by a Paid Agent of the Indiana Brewers Association, whose business it is to hold his own job. He is not a resident of this city, has no interest here, business or otherwise. His statements have been repeatedly shown to be unreliable and unworthy of belief. The dry ads have been written by men whom you know, the committees having been made known through the newspapers. These men live in Rushville, are in business here and are vitally interested in the growth and progress of our city.

We can not anticipate the statements of the brewers in their ad today, but we can confidently say to the voters of Rushville that they may expect a continuation of twisted facts and garbled statements all intended to deceive.

They say the business men of Rushville prefer the return of the saloon. WE DENY THIS STATEMENT. Have they named a single business man? Not one. ASK THE BUSINESS MEN YOURSELVES and test the truthfulness of the ads. of the Paid Agent of the Brewers.

The Wet Ad States: "Rushville can not settle the drink problem for the world." Remarkable statement that is. Neither can it settle the money question, nor the tariff question, nor any other question "for the world." But it can settle its own questions without the aid of an outsider of reckless statement.

The doctors said I had poor blood and what I had was turning to water. I took different medicines which did not help me, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me well and strong, and I am recommending it to my friends."—Mrs. FRED CHACE, R. No. 2, Macedon, N. Y.

The Change of Life.

BELTSVILLE, MD.—"By the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I have successfully passed through a most trying time, the Change of Life. ## POINT TO GIFT AT ANDERSON

Persons Here Who Have Held Out Hope for Y. M. C. A., Call Attention to $125,000 Bequest

MADE BY JAMES A. J. BRUNT

Provides Similar Amount Shall be Raised by Anderson Citizens in Six Months

Many persons here who have long lived in the hope that Rushville might, some day have a Y. M. C. A. or some institution that would be attractive to boys have called attention to the bequest of James A. J. Brunt, a wealthy city of Anderson, who one day recently gave $125,000 for a Y. M. C. A. if a similar amount is raised by Anderson citizens within six months. Concerning the bequest the Anderson Daily Bulletin says in part:

In the provisions which accompany the gift, Sanford M. Keltner, Jesse L. Vermillion, Thomas B. Orr, Willis S. Ellis and William S. Diven were named as a board of trustees to select the site for the building, purchase the property and upon the plans and have the entire matter in charge.

Mr. Brunt's offer contains the provision that a similar sum of money must be raised by the citizens of Anderson within six months before his gift may be taken advantage of. Sixty per cent of the total sum, or $75,000, shall be raised within four months, the record says, the remaining $50,000 to be subscribed before the expiration of the following two months.

In case the total of $250,000 or more is raised through Mr. Brunt's gift and the subscription of Anderson residents, the trustees who have been named then will definitely select and purchase a site, let the contract for the building, and the word will be pushed through with utmost haste.

A canvass of local citizens will be started at once toward raising the prescribed amount of money. It is probable that another committee of five men will be selected, which will be active in visiting business men, fathers of families and others interested in boys' welfare. This committee will act in co-operation with the board of trustees.

Prospects for the success of the attempt to equal the donation of Mr. Brunt are extremely bright, say the members of the board of trustees. They believe that there are a dozen or more men in this city who will be willing to pledge sums reaching into the thousands of dollars. With these gifts as a start, a comparatively great amount of the fund is expected to be raised. Smaller donations will aid to swell the fund, and with Anderson's having a population close to 30,000, it is believed that the amount will be forthcoming long before the stated time has elapsed.

While general plans for the campaign to raise the fund have been suggested to the trustees, the detailed arrangements are not complete. These plans will be decided upon within the course of the next few days and then will be put into actual operation. It has been decided to get into communication with the national headquarters of the Y. M. C. A. and in this way to get valuable suggestions upon the best manner in which to launch and push the campaign. As soon as they take definite form an announcement will be made.

Mr. Brunt at several former times has made substantial monetary gifts to deserving institutions of this state. Several years ago, he gave $10,000 to the Indianapolis Y. M. C. A. Since that time, the Capital City institution has been able to add to its size and to greatly increase its capacity in many ways. About the same time he donated $10,000 to the Winona Technical Institute.

Message No. 4

To the Business Men of Rushville

A young doctor, making a start in a small town, decided that to be prosperous he must look prosperous. He bought a new buggy and two good horses. Although he had only a few patients he always kept on the jump, attending to his patients' smallest needs. People began to notice this young doctor driving about town and they called him because he looked busy and prosperous. He got his start—a start that led to a comfortable practice.

Our town, like this doctor, must look prosperous to be prosperous. Clean streets, attractive store windows, well-painted buildings and dwellings give the prosperous air. Well-painted buildings are greatest of these.

OLDEST AMERICAN FRIGATE TO BE BURNED FOR COPPER

(By United Press.)

San Francisco, Mar. 29.—The Independence, oldest American man-of-war afloat will be burned for the sake of the copper in her hull and other metal fixings.

This decision has been reached by Capt. John H. Rinder of Berkeley, who recently purchased the vessel at auction for $3515.

The Independence is the last of the war frigates built for the war of 1812 with England and is one of the most famous ships the American navy ever boasted. Her keel was laid down in 1812. In her day she was to the United States Navy what the most modern superdreadnaughts is to the navies of today. She was the greatest fighting vessel afloat, boasting three decks and 74 guns.

In 1848 she was sent around the Horn and for many years was used as a patrol ship on the Pacific coast. Her headquarters were at Mare Island and she was in active service until 1868 when she was officially declared obsolete and assigned to the Mare Island navy yard as a training ship.

Last year the navy department decided to sell the famous old vessel, in spite of the protests by patriotic societies in all parts of the country. Capt. Rinder bought the frigate, intending to exhibit her at the Panama Pacific Exposition, but the plans fell through.

THE INDIANAPOLIS STAR

(Saturday, March 27, 1915.)

Columbus Goes "Wet"

"Although every ward in Columbus voted 'wet' at Thursday's election, it would be a rank injustice to brand the whole city as in the clutches of the 'demon rum.'

"The question of dealing with the awful scourge of intemperance is at all times a matter of ways and means; and while the forces of law and order are almost always arrayed on the 'dry' side in these option contests, a 'wet' victory does not necessarily mean that a town prefers intemperance to temperance.

"Sometimes it means that experience has demonstrated the comparative advantages of license as opposed to no-license as a method of curbing the liquor power. No city of the moral and intellectual standards of Columbus would go 'wet,' except for a widespread conviction among the best citizenship that for the time being and under the peculiar local circumstances the drink evil can be better controlled with open saloons than under nominal prohibition."

PASTORS REPLY ON LIQUOR TOPIC

man is either "wet" or "dry". He said old Pilot was a neutral; that he washed his hands of the whole matter and turned Jesus over to the rabble, and then released a robber. The minister added there were men who were still washing in Pilot's washbowl.

The third consideration, the Rev. Mr. Huntington said, for the voter is that the liquor traffic is the greatest enemy of mankind. After the victory was gained, the pastor continued, it behooves the temperance people to hold the ground. He said it was a pity that when Rushville voted "dry" before that the work was not followed up; pity that the law was not enforced. He said it seemed to be cheap politics and cheap whiskey that held up justice. Lately, he declared, the authorities, assisted by the citizens, have twisted the "tiger's" tail, and "it is up to us to twist his tail until he howls himself to death or his tail is twisted off."

The Rev. C. M. Yocum, of the Main Street Christian church, discussed "The Local Issue Before Us." He asserted, in opening, that prohibition was coming and that inasmuch it was coming, it is a question whether "we shall get in the vanguard or wait until someone forces us to get in."

He refuted the rumor which has been circulated that the preachers are not on the tax duplicate. He read the list of preachers and showed their taxes were paid and had been even since they had lived here. He held up his last tax receipt and asked what it was. Someone in the audience recognized it.

"There are 367 fellows who signed the 'wet' petition for an election who wouldn't recognize it if they saw it coming down the middle of the street in broad daylight," the pastor said.

He read his tax receipt and declared what he paid for half of the year 1912 would cover 367 fellows on the petitions and still have over 15 to spare.

He called attention to the fact that the fellows who had been going to Connersville never returned with any of the necessities, such as clothing and groceries, but that they brought home "wet" goods when they brought anything. He said four-elevenths of the "wet" advertisement about the empty store rooms was "a downright lie." He continued that that characterizes the liquor ads, and that if a fellow "lies half way, you had better watch him all the way." He said it took 30,000 a year to run the Rushville schools, and said the schools had better close down than to get $362 a year of the amount from saloon licenses.

He pointed to the statement of a high Russian official who asserted Russia had added to her national resources by banishing whiskey. He asserted the saloon is not a taxpayer, but a tax collector, and that it costs too much to have them. He asserted that the liquor ad. lied about the comparative tax rates by twisting them. He called attention to the fact that the Columbus ("wet") tax rate had been given as $3.04 instead of $3.40 as it should have been and that they did not use the city tax rate in Rushville in making comparisons, but garbled it, not showing that increases were not so much in the city as in the other divisions.

"If we are going to have 'blind tigers,' we will have to deal with the same bunch," said the Minister. "If we can't trust them now, can we trust them with a saloon?"

He asserted that a man recently tried in a liquor case in the city court admitted on the stand he had rented a room to run a saloon in case the city went "wet." He said the recent prosecutions "guarantee us better law enforcement." He said some men had said they would vote "wet" because the law was not being enforced and that now they were going to vote "wet" because the law violators were being persecuted.

"Will they break the law?" he asked. The minister then pointed out that alws of the land says says man shall not kill or steal, but that they kill and steal nevertheless. He then asked if the people should license a few to kill and steal and prevent the others from doing likewise.

Basis of Agitation

At the union service at the Main St. Christian church Sunday night the Rev. A. D. Batchelor spoke on the "Basis of Modern Temperance Agitation." He said in part:

"Present temperance agitation has its foundation in science and not in sentiment. Twentieth century science has given the traffic the worst indictment it has ever received. It is responsible for the present prohibition wave."

"1. Medical Science has indicted it. Surgeons have discovered that alcoholic patients are more apt to expire in an operation. It makes men more liable to disease by lowering the physical powers of resistance. It has been observed that abstainers live longer than drinkers. The proportion is one to four. Steady drinking clogs the liver, affects the kidneys, stupefies the brain chokes the lungs, loads the body with dropsical fluids and unwholesome fats. Thus it causes a deterioration of bodily tissues hastens the changes of old age, brings and shortens the duration of life. Medical science has observed that cancer is more prevalent in beer drinking communities. There is now known to medical science a well known class of alcoholic diseases. Inge Munsterberg of Harvard Uni. says, that intoxicants have 'an inhibitory influence on mind or body.' Even the national Health Office of Germany has prepared a mass of material showing the injurious effects of intoxicants."

"Life insurance companies have indicted it. They have discovered that the drinker is not a good risk. They have discovered that 66,000 deaths a year are directly due to intoxicants. Seeing drink shortens life they have found it unprofitable to insure the drinker. Arthur Hunter, actuary of the N. Y. Life Insurance Co., made a study of 2,000,000 deaths of policy holders in 25 years. He found that two drinkers died to one abstainer. Investigations by Life Insurance experts in Great Britain and the U. S. show that the mortality of the drinker is in excess of that of the abstainer. Between 20 and 30 years the number of deaths is 11 per cent in excess; between 30 and 40 it is 68 per cent in excess; between 40 and 50 it 75 percent in excess. The percentage decreases after this age because by that time nearly all the drinkers are in their graves. There is no mawkish sentiment about life insurance investigations. They are based upon cold facts. They have found the facts against the drinker. They have eliminated him from their risks as a matter of pure business."

"3. The railroads have indicted it. They have discovered the drunken employee to be too great liability for the road. He does less work than the abstainer. He is more apt to meet with accident and more liable to cause the train to be wrecked and thus increase the number of damage suits. Railroads are prohibiting their men from drinking not only during work hours, but also during off-hours. Even in Germany this stand is taken by the railroads. The Penn R. R. watched 125,226 employees last year and not a single case of booze was reported. No one needs fear to ride on that road with a clear headed, sober engineer with issteady hand upon the throttle. Last year the Penn. Co. refused to renew licenses for the sale of liquor in the Butad St. station Phila and the N. Y. terminal.

"4. The world's martial leaders have indicted it. The canteen has been banished from the army. It has been forbidden in the navy. See, Daniels in his sweeping order for the navy said that the petition in the navy called for a clear head and steady hand. Russia found it a dangerous thing in time of war. It has been discovered that there is less sickness among abstainers in the army; that they stand fatigue better than drinkers; that they have greater endurance in long rapid marches; that 1/9 fewer of them are convicted by court martial; that 1/3 fewer of them are disciplined for insubordination. The late Lord Roberts said, 'The period of the dissolute, imprudent soldier is past.' The drinker is being cashiered out of service."

"5. The captains of industry have indicted it. They have discovered the drinker to be less reliable. Intoxicants cause their workmen to lose time. It has been estimated that $500,000,000 are lost in time each year in the factories in the U. S. through the consumers of strong drink. It destroys their efficiency. It makes them less energetic and less alert. The drinker cannot stand as much strain, is more easily exhausted. It makes the workman more liable to accident. It is a big drain on their wages and leads to suffering in their families. A few years ago M. Rudolph Meyhoffer, of Brussels, came to this country to study industrial conditions. He reported that America's commercial supremacy was due to the sobriety of American workmen; and that this sobriety was due to children carrying from the schools to the home the instruction on the baleful effects of alcoholic drinks. It is reported that Russia has increased from 30 to 50 per cent in productivity since prohibition went into effect."

"More might be said. But this is sufficient to show that modern temperance agitation is founded not upon fanaticism, but upon science. Clear-headed business men have found the saloon to be a liability and not an asset. We will give proof of our intelligence if we stay on the 'dry' side of this question."
